light designer at MS Dockville, Hamburg

july 2021

MS Dockville is a festival for music and art that takes place in Hamburg-Wilhelmsburg, Germany. Because of the pandemic, this year it was held in a smaller setting and under the name "almost a MS Dockville". The festival area not only offers self-designed stages and hidden places but also a large open-air exhibition in which several well-known artists such as Sasha Gold, Kalihara and the collective Glitch AG participated. The program of the festival is as colorful as the site: DJ sets, bands, art tours and live art events. This year, I had the pleasure of co-curating and installing the lighting. It was important to me to create an equilibrium between the general lighting and the magical "festival feeling" on one hand and that, on the other hand, each work of art gets the attention it deserves by installing individually adjusted lights. However, the most space and importance is given to the experience of the audience. The visitors should feel comfortable and welcome, be amazed, experience and enjoy their stay.

PROFESS: EXPERIENCE

light designer at CUT GmbH

2019 - 2021

For me, the most intense and joyful part of this profession takes place right at the beginning: a stage, when the creative urge is exposed to zero limits. I enjoy developing new ideas, sketching first drafts, and brainstorming in groups to find diverse options and solutions. lamadesignerforinternalandexternalroomsillumination. Drafting, visualizations, planning, computation of costs and implementations are several parts of my job. I work with programs like Vectorworks for CAD plans, Photoshop and Affinity Photo as well as Keynote or PowerPoint for concept presentations. Working with the medium 'light' itself, offers a manifold range of application and raises deeper questions, such as about its influence on the human body or how different experiences of light shape one's consciousness. Dealing with those questions helps and shapes the overall experience with customers and employees likewise
